To Whom It May Concern,

I knew Francisco Nomdedeu Martinez during his internship through the European Eurodyssey program. He stayed in my laboratory for five months (July to November 2021) and worked in our research group in the field of phthalates and microalgae.

Francisco Martinez clearly demonstrated that his motivation for research was deep and true. He showed a great willingness to tackle new and different problems and performed his work with intelligence, and independence.

Therefore, I am convinced that Francisco Martinez will have an assured future as a research scientist.
